IN RE: Petitioner:
Beneficiary:

APPLICATION: Petition for Alien Fiance(e) Pursuant to Section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(K)

IN BEHALF OF PETITIONER: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or the analysis used in reaching the decision was inconsistent with the information provided or with precedent decisions, you may file a motion to reconsider. Such a motion must state the reasons for reconsideration and be supported by any pertinent precedent decisions. Any motion to reconsider must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required under 8 C.F.R. § 103.5(a)(1)(i).

If you have new or additional information that you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reopen. Such a motion must state the new facts to be proved at the reopened proceeding and be supported by affidavits or other documentary evidence. Any motion to reopen must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reopen, except that failure to file before this period expires may be excused in the discretion of the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (Bureau) where it is demonstrated that the delay was reasonable and beyond the control of the applicant or petitioner. Id.

Any motion must be filed with the office that originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. § 103.7.

Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a citizen of the United States who seeks to classify the beneficiary, a native and citizen of the Philippines, as the fiancée of a United States citizen, pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 101(a)(15)(K).

The director noted that the evidence submitted indicated that at the time of filing the petition, the petitioner and the beneficiary had not met. He determined that the evidence did not establish that unique circumstances exist which prevent the meeting of the petitioner and the beneficiary or that compliance with this requirement would cause extreme hardship to the petitioner. The director further determined that the Service could find no facts in this instance which warrant a discretionary waiver of the two-year meeting period. He, therefore, denied the petition.

On appeal, the petitioner states that: (1) he does not have the money to go to the Philippines as he is a simple factory worker in southern Illinois, he is on a tight budget, and getting off from work to travel is also a problem; (2) he met the beneficiary through her brother-in-law who is his co-worker, and he has been in very close contact with the beneficiary during the past two years; and (3) he does plan on traveling to the Philippines as soon as he can save the money.

Section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Act defines a nonimmigrant in this category as:

An alien who is the fiancée or fiancé of a citizen of the United States and who seeks to enter the United States solely to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner within ninety days after admission, and the minor children of such fiancée or fiancé accompanying him or following to join him.

Section 214(d) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1184(d), states, in pertinent part, that a fiancé(e) petition:

shall be approved only after satisfactory evidence is submitted by the petitioner to establish that the parties have previously met in person within 2 years before the date of filing the petition, have a bona fide intention to marry, and are legally able and actually willing to conclude a valid marriage in the United States within a period of ninety days after the alien's arrival, except that the Attorney General in his discretion may waive the requirement that the parties have previously met in person....

8 C.F.R. § 214.2(k)(2) provides that as a matter of discretion, the director may exempt the petitioner from the requirement that the parties have previously met only if it is established that compliance would result in extreme hardship to the petitioner or that compliance would violate strict and long-established customs of the beneficiary's foreign culture or social practice.

The petition was filed with the Service on August 5, 2002. Therefore, the petitioner and the beneficiary must have met in person between August 6, 2000 and August 5, 2002.

The director noted that the petitioner declared that the reason he and the beneficiary have not personally met was because he was not able to get enough time off from his job to go to the Philippines. The director maintained that it has been established that the time involved in traveling to a foreign country is a normal difficulty encountered in complying with the requirement that the petitioner and the beneficiary meet; thus, it is not considered to be an extreme hardship.

While the petitioner, on appeal, claims that he does not have the money to go to the Philippines, financial difficulties, including absence from work while traveling abroad, as required for compliance with the statutory requirements, are normal circumstances and do not constitute extreme hardship.

The petitioner has failed to establish that he and the beneficiary have met personally as required, pursuant to section 214(d) of the Act. Nor has the petitioner established that he warrants a discretionary waiver of the requirement, pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(k)(2).

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden. Accordingly, the appeal will be dismissed.

This decision is without prejudice to the filing of a new petition (Form I-129F) once the petitioner and the beneficiary have met in person, and within the two years of the date of filing the new petition.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
